Church Woods

Protecting Nature is often a daunting challenge. But The Couchiching Conservancy is meeting that challenge, through a combination of generous donors, committed volunteers, and innovative partnerships.

Everything we do is focused on the protection of ecologically sensitive lands, directly or indirectly. Land protection is our top priority, and sound management is our bottom line.

We are a non-profit organization, incorporated in 1993, and registered as Canadian charity No. 13972 5030 RR 0001.

Highlights of 2006

Securing priority lands for conservation

Several high-priority properties came into Conservancy ownership during 2006. On the Oro Moraine south of Craighurst, we were honoured to accept the donation of a 19-acre forested property from Don and Heather Elliott. This high-quality hardwood forest will be known as Elliott Woods. Unfortunately, Don Elliott passed away only a few days after the dedication ceremony for this reserve.

Near the village of Waverley, Rhonda Cowen donated a 23-acre wooded property, which protects one of the headwaters of Hogg Creek. This reserve will be known as the Jennett Woods, to honour Rhonda's parents. Parts of this area are pine plantation, which we plan to gradually convert to native woodland.

A major acquisition project during 2006 was the purchase of Church Woods in Shanty Bay, a 25-acre old-growth hardwood forest with strong historical connections to the adjacent St. Thomas church. The O'Brien family, who have owned the Woods for generations, agreed to sell it for less than full market value, and an energetic and determined group of neighbours offered to raise the $600,000 needed to secure its future. With help from the Township of Oro-Medonte and many individuals, funding is now in place and we expect to close the purchase transaction within the next few weeks.

The Carden Alvar remains a high conservation priority for us and other partners including Nature Conservancy of Canada (NCC), Ontario Parks, and other conservation groups. With the help of our contribution of $125,000 and considerable staff time, two major Carden properties were formally transferred to conservation ownership early in 2006. The 1600-acre Windmill Ranch is now owned by Ontario Parks, and the 700-acre Prairie Smoke Alvar is owned by NCC. As part of a 10-year conservation blueprint for the Carden Alvar, we are continuing to develop further projects to help create the largest area of protected alvar in the world.

During 2006, we received approval for a major funding commitment from the Ontario Heritage Trust towards the future acquisition of a highly-significant property on the southern Shield. Negotiations to acquire this property are ongoing.

A growing role for stewardship

With the roster of natural lands managed by the Conservancy now exceeding 7,000 acres, the task of ensuring good stewardship of these properties becomes increasingly important. During 2006, we negotiated a collaborative agreement with NCC to undertake stewardship activities for both organizations in this region, and secured a three-year supporting grant from the Ontario Trillium Foundation. This has allowed us to hire Kyra Howes as a full-time Stewardship Coordinator to work jointly with our volunteer property teams on management issues.

Kyra is in the process of developing stewardship plans for the East Coulson, Ferry-Fawcett, and Severn Woodlands properties. With the assistance of consultants for ecological inventory and planning, management plans are also being developed for Carden Alvar properties. Field work by Margo Holt and Nancy Ironside, as well as other volunteers from the Orillia and Carden nature clubs, has been of great assistance on the Prairie Smoke Alvar property.

Other stewardship activities have included monitoring and research work on grassland birds, initial development of a grazing management strategy to maintain bird habitats in Carden, and the upgrading of fences and water sources on Windmill Ranch.

Another important stewardship initiative is the development of recommended policies on permitted uses on Conservancy lands, so that we have a more coherent approach on difficult issues such as hunting and forest management. This taskforce is led by Board members Nathalie Rockhill and Bob Sullivan, and includes staffers Ron Reid and Kyra Howes, and members Margo Holt, Gary Thiess, and Doug Christie. Their recommendations are expected by late April 2007.

The Land Between project moves to a new phase

The diverse band of shallow granite and limestone rocklands along the southern edge of the Canadian Shield, known as The Land Between, is the focus of a collaborative project with the Kawartha Heritage Conservancy. After an initial phase of this project, based in our office, was completed in early 2006, major funding was secured for an additional two years. Leora Berman has been hired as project coordinator for this second phase, working from a more central location in Peterborough.

This initiative involves a series of partnership projects with universities, provincial and federal agencies, and other nonprofits. These projects are detailing the special ecological and cultural values in this corridor, identifying gaps and opportunities for further protection, and promoting a range of protection options. A major loss to The Land Between concept was the sudden death of Peter Alley in late 2006, an energetic and passionate volunteer who has been the leading visionary for this concept.

Reaching out to the community

With the help of Outreach Coordinator Rosalie Pratt, the Conservancy has become better known in our community during 2006. Mother Earth Day, held in mid-May, was very successful with approximately 500 people in attendance. A series of workshops, a members bus tour, and various displays and speaking engagements provided other opportunities for learning.

Our media partnerships, especially with the Orillia Packet and Times, have also been valuable. A weekly column has highlighted the story behind Conservancy properties, and sponsored advertising has supported the quarterly insertion of our newsletter and promotion for events. Our collaborative partnership with Wye Marsh Wildlife Centre continues to bring school groups to Grants Woods, the Orillia Naturalists Club now co-sponsors our monthly workshops, and a partnership with Sciensational Ssnakes entices hundreds of people to learn first-hand about reptiles. We are also deeply involved with the Carden Community Forum, a joint process with local landowners and the aggregate industry which sponsored three public workshops during 2006.

Late in the year, we initiated a successful renewal of the Protect an Acre program, and developed a series of habitat-based notecards which highlight Conservancy activities.

Building a sustainable organization

Donors to the Conservancy want to know that we will be here for the long term. In support of developing a sustainable base, in 2006 we were able to make modest additions to both our Property Protection Fund and the President's Reserve Fund. Our membership continued to grow in 2006, with a high rate of renewals. A member survey provided us with a clearer picture of why people choose to join us.

Our corporate member program, which had begun in 2005, nearly doubled in size during 2006 to over 70 local businesses. A new Level IV category, at $2,500 per year, was added at the request of RBC Dominion Securities.

In the past, the Conservancy has benefitted from one major bequest, and we are encouraging this important avenue of support through a planned giving program. A brochure about planned giving has been distributed, and we also made presentations to the Orillia Law Society and to a special forum for our members. ☺

Looking ahead to 2007

At its annual planning meeting, the Conservancy Board identified priorities for 2007, including:

1. Complete the Church Woods acquisition and initiate stewardship planning there.
2. Sign a conservation easement on a property near Coulson, currently in negotiation.
3. Pursue several major securement projects in the southern Shield area in Severn and Ramara.
4. Undertake at least one new securement project in the Carden Alvar and advance stewardship planning for current properties.
5. Review our performance against new Standards and Practices developed by the Ontario Land Trust Alliance, as a basis for a review of our Strategic Plan.
6. Host a Mother Earth Day event and develop a new Carden Nature Festival event.
7. Publish an updated guide to Conservancy properties. ∞

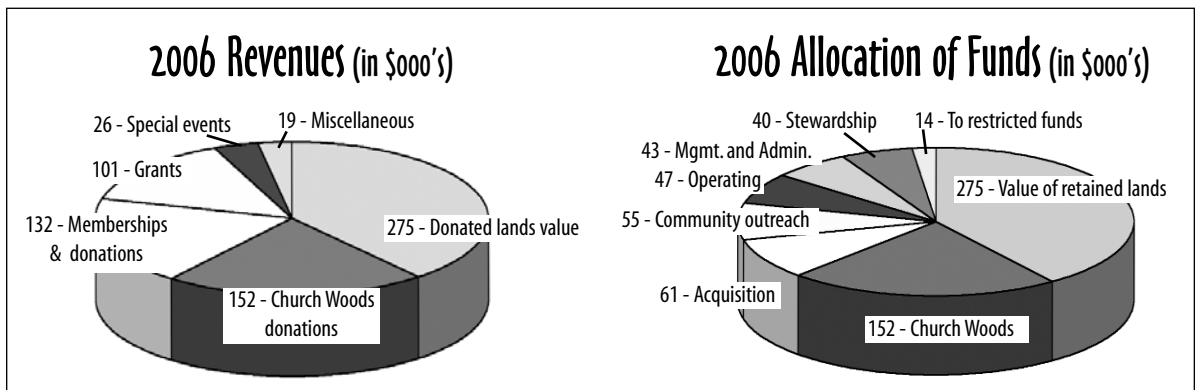

An Overview of 2006 Finances

Because of our increasing scope of activities, for the first time our accounts have been subject to a full audit; the resulting audited financial statements by J.R. Booth C.A. are available on request.

Our overall 2006 revenues were considerably higher than in 2005, largely because of the receipt of two donated properties. Revenue from memberships increased significantly in 2006, as part of a long-term strategy to decrease our reliance on foundation grants. As well, several major Foundation grants were received during 2006 to support The Land Between project and stewardship program. The portion of funds received during the year which apply to specific 2007 projects are not included as part of 2006 revenues. Approximately $152,000 of Church Woods donations and $16,000 in other deferred revenues are on hand for next year.

Overall, our operating expenditures for the year, not including the value of retained lands, were approximately $260,000. Because of a small positive balance at year-end, we were able to allocate approximately $7,000 to the President's Reserve, as a buffer for future operating expenses.

By Board policy, some funds are held as investments for special purposes. At our 2006 year-end (October 31), the Acquisition Fund contained $64,042. The Property Protection Fund, which is intended to help maintain properties in perpetuity, stood at $75,709, including a special $10,000 fund allocated to conservation easement enforcement. Another $10,000 has been set aside for future major maintenance costs on Grant House. Investments and cash accounts for general operations and projects totalled approximately $73,000, and our total equity as an organization has surpassed the $1.3 million mark. ∞

Church Woods Donors: Securing the future of Church Woods as an ecological and community asset for Shanty Bay has involved an amazing number of donors, large and small. The nine members of the O'Brien family have all agreed to accept about one-quarter of the property's value in charitable donation receipts. Three family members – Tim Crooks, Norah Wishart, and Sue Benjafield – have chosen to donate substantially greater amounts to make this transaction possible. The Township of Oro-Medonte has agreed to participate with a grant of $60,000. As well, the following community-minded donors have contributed to date:

Our Volunteers are Priceless: This year has shown once again the talent and dedication of our volunteers who form the core of our organization. Volunteers participate on property management teams, build trails and facilities at Grant's Woods, staff special events, help with fundraising, sit on committees, and do a hundred other useful things. For the past year, Mary Mick has served with skill and dedication as our Volunteer Coordinator. Mary can be reached at 325-3618; she welcomes enquiries by anyone who would like to get involved. Among our most active volunteers are our Board members, who dedicate many hours to overseeing Conservancy affairs as well as often being involved in projects.
